UNDERLASH

Under lashes are generally thinner and shorter than upper lashes. The extra definition and length of under lashes can help open up a person's eye. The under false eyelashes make them look larger without looking fake. Under lashes are less curly than upper lashes, so it will look natural.

HALFLASHES

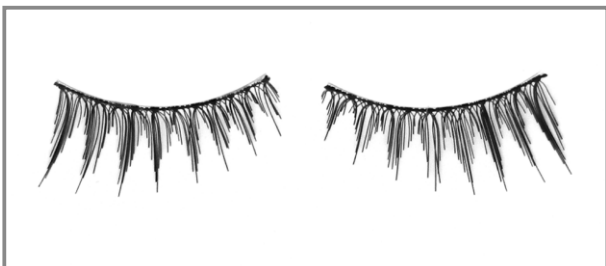

A full set of false eyelashes can sometimes be too much, opt for half lashes instead. Half lashes are nice alternative to a full strip of eyelashes. They can achieve similar effects using a lesser amount of lashes. By adding length to outer edge lashes, natural lashes will appear thicker. Half false eyelashes are actually more economical too, compared to a full set.
